

Why Nashville's "Room In The Inn" should NOT receive additional funding without a MUCH stronger Board of Directors.

(Hint: Zero meaningful accountability or oversight)

(20260805-20260813 by Deirdre Moore, CFA, BBA / Andee Sea Cae Jak)

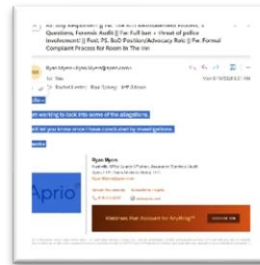

How it started? I took the initiative to scribble up a draft flyer¹ and, on 20260729, seek feedback from the ROOM IN THE INN ("RITI") Community Development team. In under an hour, I was banned by its Executive Director Rachel Hester ("Hester") from:

- all Bible Study classes,
- all Art classes and
- the entire second floor

until "further notice" as sidekick Maggie Sananikone ("Sananikone") chimed in with an unwarranted character assault while another staff/volunteer witnessed the event.

What's the status now? Used to reading "cant" that's delivered via multiple techniques², the incorrect punctuation and obvious "typo" used by RITI Board President Ryan Myers ("Myers") (see insert at right) leaves me at a loss as to that which Myers is actually planning to do.

That B+Y "typo" in simple Gematria³? It equals 2 + 25 (ie. 27, aka 3³, aka another 33 (see Image 009) and is a tad off-putting. Regardless, I'll provide him with a bit more time to decide which sorts of decisions he'd like to make. Perhaps my draft complimentary review of his cant-laden response (see <https://twb.rocks/riti/ryan-myers-20260810>) will help.

RITI Board President Myers' "smoking gun"

I am fairly certain that Mr. Myers wasn't expecting me to be able to read his "cant"; however, I could ... and did.

An introduction to the language of "cant" is stored in the scroll box at <https://twb.rocks/gang-stalking>; and, a copy of Myers' self-incriminating e-mail is stored at Image 007 below and at <https://twb.rocks/riti/ryan-myers-20260810>.

"Banned from a drop-in center for the homeless? Why would I care?"

It fairly obvious from my "Diary of a Canadian Whistleblower"⁴ that I have a lot on my plate. Why would I even bother spending hours each week at this place⁵? In a nutshell:

- Bible Study classes were helping me with three of my efforts to help individuals ramp their Scriptural literacy:
 - easy-to-play Bible Bingo (see Image 013),
 - mobile board game "Meaningful Quest" (see Image 014) and
 - instructional wall art "The Chronology Canvas" (see Image 015);
- Art classes were exceptionally cathartic^x as well as essential in helping me to advance my "Teach Yourself Braille" project^x; and

- Storage: for displaced/marginalized targets^x, storage is a logistical challenge that becomes increasingly impossible to manage as one endures [collective shenanigans].

12.5 Hours of RITI classes =
2 units of storage for 1 month

Note: Effectively, I earned $10/hour to attend RITI's [classes]. This is how much a desperate person will work for in order to keep their Bibles and winter clothes safe. Like most of that which we're enduring, RITI is an experiment.

Why are they testing our tolerance for [near prison wages while displaced]? Population control during the economic collapse, that's why. See evidence of this obviously-looming event being published at <https://twb.rocks/living/opinion/service-industry-collapse> as time and resources permit.

That which remains from the 2016-2024 thefts/kidnappings/de-fraudings can be gleaned from Images 011-012 and that which I had accumulated throughout my 25-year career can be gleaned from evidence linked to https://twb.rocks/about-us/stolen-property-1_deirdre-moore. Until my without-grounds ban from this alleged "church" (which began one week before my first RITI storage contract was set to expire), I was evidencing my RITI attendance⁶ so others could more easily comprehend the goods and services that were offered.
